INTRODUCTION TO KLANG VALLEY

The term Klang Valley is often used especially in Peninsular Malaysia as we would often hear it on the news or the radio. For those who are not from Klang Valley might not know what it is, hence the question 'What is Klang Valley' lingers in our minds. So, what exactly is Klang Valley?

Klang Valley is an area in Peninsular Malaysia comprising the capital city, Kuala Lumpur, its suburbs and the districts of Selangor state. Klang Valley covers the geographical area from the north to the south of Kuala Lumpur which is Rawang and Sepang respectively.

Did you know that Klang Valley was established in 1973? Klang Valley was introduced as a result of recommendations from a regional planning study in that area. The five major areas in Klang Valley include Kuala Lumpur, Gombak, Hulu Langat and Petaling.

Klang Valley is home to many Malaysians and also expats. Since Malaysia is culturally diverse, there are many cultural places that we can visit in Klang Valley. We are here to share with you some unique places to visit ranging from historical sites to night markets.

In this edition, we will be going into detail based on each region in Klang Valley starting from its Northern Region, Central Region to the Southern Region. Apart from that, the Central Region will be sectioned into three parts.

What exactly is Klang Valley?

Introduction To Klang Valley

WHAT'S KLANG VALLEY MADE OF?

Klang Valley is made up of approximately 2,832 square kilometres and roughly it is situated at the centre of the West Coast of Peninsular Malaysia. It is geographically located to the north and east to the Titiwangsa Mountains and the Strait of Malacca to the west. It also extends until Rawang in the northwest, southeast to Semenyih, and Port Klang and Klang in the southwest.

As of 2021, Klang Valley is home to roughly 8.4 million people, which is 25% of Malaysia's total population. The population in Klang Valley is expected to gradually increase at 0.5% annually.

Apart from that, the Gross Domestic Product (GDP) in Malaysia has expanded 5.0% underpinned by stronger domestic demand during the first quarter of 2022 and is expected to gain 320.00 USD Billion by the end of 2022. From January to March 2022, the monthly economic performance showed better growth. The GDP performance had grown 4.3% in January 2022, risen to 5.2% and 5.4% in February and March 2022 respectively. The current economic standing shows that the economic performance during the first quarter of 2022 has surpassed the level of the quarter of 2019 by 5.2%, which is RM17.9 billion.

A GUIDE ON HOW TO TRAVEL AROUND KLANG VALLEY USING PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Although Klang Valley is connected with various expressways, you might not want to be stuck in heavy traffic. Therefore, travelling using public transportations is more reliable and affordable too! Here are some tips and tricks when you travel using the public transportation in Klang Valley.

The most used platform for public transport is KL Sentral; it is the main transport hub in the heart of Klang Valley where you can have access to buses, trains and taxis.

Apart from that, when you look at the Klang Valley Integrated Transit Map, the lines that intersect with each other means that you are able to interchange stations at that specific station.

If you are planning to roam around Klang Valley for a day using public transportation, you may purchase the MyCity Pass for a daily unlimited travel for only RM5. You may also opt for the monthly pass which is only for RM50.

There are also numerous buses that run around Klang Valley including free buses as well. You can travel around Klang Valley free of charge in specific areas.

Another tip is to download the PULSE app by RapidKL to check out the bus schedules for less waiting time. The app shows the estimated arrival time for every bus in Klang Valley. The app also helps in finding various public transportation options for you to take to reach a certain destination.

WAYS TO NORTHERN REGION

Kuala Lumpur - Kuala Selangor Expressway (LATAR)

The LATAR expressway (Lebuhraya Assamjawa Taman Rimba), which is also known as Kuala Lumpur-Kuala Selangor Expressway, is an expressway that links Kuala Lumpur to Kuala Selangor with its west and east end which is Ijok and Templer's Park respectively. The expressway stretches across for 32 kilometres and it is the best route to take rather than the Jalan Sungai Buloh Kuala Selangor (Federal Road 54). It was actually opened in 2011 and it offers a faster, safer, smoother and non-congested drive that only takes 18 minutes to go from end to end. There are six interchanges and six toll plazas on their side of the expressway which gives a faster and easy access to the Guthrie Corridor Expressway, PLUS North-South Expressway and the future West Coast Expressway.

Tian Fu Gong Kuala Selangor

The Tian Fu Gong Temple is the oldest temple in Kuala Selangor. Although it was unclear when the temple was first built, there were carvings which looked like it was built during 1888. The temple was originally built behind a post office near Bukit Melawati; it was then relocated to its current location. According to history, the relocation of the temple happened after a British District Officer had a train accident and was rescued by an Indian man. He then saw a statue of the man who helped him and later decided to build a new temple at the current location.

WAYS TO SOUTHERN REGION

South Klang Valley Expressway (SKVE)

The South Klang Valley Expressway, or SKVE, is the southern part of Klang Valley's expressway. It is the fifth east-west oriented expressway in Klang Valley after the Federal Highway, NKVE, LATAR expressway, and also KESAS expressway. This expressway is a dual-carriageway with 51.7-kilometers in length. The expressway links the southern towns in Klang Valley as well as the administrative capital, Putrajaya.

Website: <http://www.skve.com.my/>

Kajang Dispersal Link Expressway (SILK)

The Kajang Dispersal Link Expressway, which is also known as the Kajang SILK, is a 3-lane dual carriageway that is 37- kilometres in length. It has become a primary ring road that allows users to bypass congestion easily and it regulates escalating traffic around Kajang. The expressway provides access to various locations such as to and from KL, Cheras, Balakong, Putrajaya and so on via 12 convenient interchanges.

Website: <https://www.prolintas.com.my/kajang-silk/>

Cheras - Kajang Expressway

The Cheras-Kajang Expressway is 11.5 kilometres long that runs between the suburbs of Cheras at the border of Kuala Lumpur-Selangor and the township of Kajang. The construction of the expressway was commenced in the late 1998 and was completed in 1999. The primary destinations are Kuala Lumpur, Petaling Jaya, Cheras, Kajang, Semenyih, and also Seremban.

Ampang - Kuala Lumpur Elevated Highway (AKLEH)

The Ampang-Kuala Lumpur Elevated Highway which is also known as AKLEH is the first elevated highway in Malaysia. The expressway has a three-lane carriageway with a starting point which begins eastward from Jalan Sultan Ismail to the riverbanks of Sungai Klang and Sungai Ampang. The expressway stretches across for 7.9 kilometres which connects Ampang and Kuala Lumpur. It was built to reduce traffic congestion that typically occurs at Jalan Ampang and provide access to the city more conveniently.

SIGHTS AND ATTRACTIONS

Introduction to sights & attractions

The Southern Region of Klang Valley is home to a diversity of interesting sights and attractions for you to visit. These include historical sites, antique buildings, gorgeous natural attractions and many more that awaits your arrival.

Istana Bandar

The Istana Bandar is a historical palace situated in the outskirts of Kuala Langkat District. It was built in 1899 and was the official residence of the 5th Sultan of Selangor. The rich and cultural heritage of Malaysia is portrayed in the amazing architectural design of the palace such as Indian, Chinese and Middle Eastern architectural elements. Visitors are able to gain more knowledge about the history of Selangor at this palace. The palace is quite large as it has around 40 rooms inside!

Address: Kampung Sungai Ingat, 42700 Banting, Selangor

Operating Hours: 9.30 am - 4.30 pm (Saturday-Thursday) / 9.30 am - 12.30 pm, 2.30 pm - 4.30 pm (Friday)

Cape Rachado Lighthouse

The Cape Rachado Lighthouse is also known as the Tanjung Tuan Lighthouse and it was commissioned in the year 1863. The lighthouse is 24-metres in height. There is a scenic lookout point from the Cape Rachado Lighthouse where you could enjoy a great view of the sea from the top. You might need to hike along a shaded road trail for a few minutes at the forest reserve to reach the lighthouse.

Address: Tanjung Tuan Recreational Forest, Port Dickson

Operating Hours: 9.00 am - 5.00 pm (Monday-Sunday)

HISTORICAL SIGHTS & MUSEUMS

Jugra Insitu Museum

The Jugra Insitu Museum was formerly an old police station including a prison but it was later renovated and converted to become a museum. It was built by Cap Harry Charles Syers in 1878. The museum consists of three sections of galleries that you could visit. There are also many historical exhibits and artifacts that are on display in the museum. Outside of the museum, there are armoured vehicles that the visitors get to look at. There is no entrance fee to visit the place, hence it is worth visiting if you are in the area.

Makam Sultan Abdul Samad

The Makam Sultan Abdul Samad is the royal burial ground of Sultan Abdul Samad, the 4th Sultan of Selangor, who passed away in 1898. It has been a mausoleum for the royal family of Selangor since the year 1886. The mausoleum has narrow arch openings on each side of it and has big-sized fluted columns attached to its corners that is also topped by cones. It is a great place to bring your family to educate them on the national figures of the past.

Lover's Bridge Tanjung Sepat

The Lover's Bridge at Tanjung Sepat is the only place to be during sunset. It is the perfect place to witness the breathtaking view of the sunset disappearing between the line where the sky meets the sea. It is a concrete pier that leads far out to the sea and it has been a popular spot for couples, hence it provides the inspiration to its name. This is also one of the best spots to take your Instagrammable photos as well. The Lover's Bridge is a must-visit place when you are at Klang Valley!

Address: 21, Jalan Senangin 1, Taman Tanjung, 42800 Tanjong Sepat, Selangor

There are countless places that are worth exploring beyond Klang Valley which can be found from the coast to nature. Various delicacies, that are also worth the try, are found around these places. Most of the restaurants have their own unique specialties that won't be found anywhere else.

Each place is bound to showcase the cultural diversity of Malaysia whether they are subtle or obvious. Therefore, it is highly recommended to visit these areas so you could experience the beauty of this country.

The lovely sites that are located beyond Klang Valley are considered as must-visit sites for locals tourists as well as tourists from other parts of the world. Hence, we have prepared for you a list of places to visit according to the areas beyond Klang Valley.

GENTING HIGHLANDS

Genting Highlands is a hill station situated on the peak of Mount Ulu Kali in the Titiwangsa Mountains which is approximately 1865 metres above sea level. Genting Highlands was established in 1965 and it is popular for their casinos, theme parks and also resorts. The chilly weather of Genting Highlands is the best place to go for entertainment outside Klang Valley.

On a clear day, visitors are able to see a breathtaking view of beautiful valleys and rainforests that stretches towards KL city from the peak of Genting Highlands. The cooling weather and tranquil mountain surroundings are what the visitors tend to look for in Genting Highlands. Apart from that, there are various tourist attractions that can be found around Genting Highlands, such as rustic towns, culinary hotspots, homestay retreats, wildlife sites and many more.

HOW TO GET THERE

The drive to the peak is 35-kilometres long and it takes approximately an hour. The entire trip to the peak will be quite slow due to the curvy and steep mountain route along the way. If you park your car at the Awana SkyCentral, you could ride the cable car to reach the peak.

One of the affordable ways to travel to Genting Highlands is by bus. There are multiple trips that travel to and fro KL city to Genting Highlands; there are also several locations in and around KL that leaves to Genting Highlands. Departures from KL are available from day and night, with tickets ranging from RM5 to RM12 depending on the location.

Genting Express is the official bus service to Awana SkyCentral, which offers services from KL Sentral, Pudu Sentral, Terminal Putra LRT Gombak, Terminal Bersepadu Selatan, and One Utama Shopping Centre. However, there are several express buses from Singapore and other states in Peninsular Malaysia as well.

TEMERLOH TTIK TENGAH SEMENANJUNG

INTRODUCTION

About Temerloh

Temerloh is a municipality in Pahang District and it is proven to be the centre of Peninsular Malaysia. The town is well-known for its Patin fish because the town is rich with various freshwater fish such as Jelawat, Baung, Tenggalan, Lampam, Belida, Tilapia, Kerai and of course, Patin. As the home to the Patin fish, the people of Temerloh have various kinds of dishes that bring out the taste of the fish. Apart from that, the town is also known for its variety of jungle and wild-life experiences as well.

Temerloh was formerly known as Kuala Semantan but it was thought unsuitable as the word kuala only refers to the river confluence. Hence, they then changed the name to Temerloh. It is said that the word was derived from the sleep place of Orang Asli which is Tempat Mereloh. Since the word is quite hard to pronounce, they shortened it to Temerloh as it is easier to pronounce.

HOW TO GET THERE

Temerloh is accessible by car as it links to other cities as well. It is well-connected to KL city and Kuantan by the East Coast Expressway and the Karak Expressway. These also connects Temerloh to other towns in Pahang such as Maran, Karak and Bentong. There are also buses available that runs every hour from various departing locations such as Pekeliling Bus Terminal and Terminal Bersepadu Selatan.

You are also able to reach Temerloh by using the train which is the KTMB. The nearest train station to Temerloh is Mentakab train station. There are also minor stations nearby Temerloh which can be found in Sungai Belengu, Kerdu and Kuala Krau.

Apart from that, water transportation is also one of the options especially for those who live on the banks of the Pahang River and Semantan River. There are jetties for passengers to embark and depart that can be found in Temerloh Town and Kuala Krau.

REASONS WHY TEMERLOH?

Temerloh is well-known for its variety of fish, hence there are various types of unique dishes that can only be found in Temerloh. It is actually one of Malaysia's less-visited gems, but it definitely shouldn't be missed. Apart from that, Temerloh is also known for its variety of jungle and wild-life experiences as well. It is home to many natural attractions as it is rich with many elements of nature throughout the town.

We are here to share with you five interesting things to do in Temerloh!

1. Experience the rearing of the Ikan Patin

As we mentioned, Temerloh is known for their various freshwater fish especially ikan patin. There are several fish farms that are mostly abundant for each catch. Head over to these farms and experience how the farmers rear the fishes using their nets and wooden planks. Besides that, you can also purchase the fishes that are still alive.

2. Go on a river cruise at Sungai Pahang

Cruise along the Pahang River and enjoy the scenic view of nature along the river. You are able to find boat services at Esplanade Temerloh that are available for visitors to rent. Each boat can accommodate around seven to 10 people at once. You will get a cruise for about 15 to 20 minutes and the boat operator might share some interesting information about Temerloh throughout the boat ride.

3. Set foot at the Centre of Peninsular Malaysia

The Centre of Malaysian Peninsular Monument is situated at Kampung Paya Siput and it is the geographical centre of Peninsular Malaysia. The precise midpoint of Peninsular Malaysia is marked by a monument that is set in a park with a man-made lake. This makes it a pleasant place for visitors to rest and take photos at the location.

4. Try out some traditional sports like Gasing

Gasing is a spinning top and it is one of the well-known traditional games in Malaysia. There is a court specifically made for spinning top sport in Temerloh at Kampung Sanggang; it is recognized by UNESCO Malaysia. Visitors are able to have a go at spinning the top and it is actually quite challenging. It is the best place to have a great time with your friends or family during your stay at Temerloh.

5. Dine at a Patin Tempoyak restaurant

Patin is a silver catfish that is highly prized among the other freshwater fish. There are various unique dishes of patin fish that you could find in Temerloh and patin tempoyak is one of them. The dish's ingredients consist of the patin fish and also fermented durian gravy. There are a few popular patin tempoyak restaurants in Temerloh such as Kancil Raja Patin and Patin Bangau.
